It's Always Better When We're United!

As we look at our efforts to promote the Buy American Made Campaign and support for American workers, we can all agree that the road to change is often more difficult than any of us have expected. However, when we're united to make positive change happen for the country where we live, our goals can be accomplished.

After watching the jobs and livelihoods of millions of Americans outsourced around the world, the majority of Americans agree that it's time to promote the small and major businesses employing American workers with a focus on supporting the American made label. This helps maintain and restore many levels of jobs for Americans from the point of production to the point of sale. Our supporters saw the negative effects that occurred as America's industries downsized and moved overseas. None of us want this unfortunate part of American history to continue in the future.

Most of the positive efforts taking place are a result of Americans looking at labels, asking questions, asking for American made, shopping more at local stores and using more of our buying power to support American made products. We all understand that businesses that outsourced the production of their products overseas don't want America's consumers to focus on where products are made because the labels clearly show that large numbers of the items available at brick and mortar stores and on the Internet are foreign made. In some cases it has reached the point where there are NO competitive American made products available at any cost.

Together we are uniting people every day with common sense discussions and shared ideas that will help businesses grow in America and restore jobs and job skills needed to employ millions of Americans. I encourage you to look at the brief video posted for the Million American Jobs Project. It is posted on the front page of AmericanWorkersRadio.com. It has a very clear message and has been viewed by almost 4 million people. Share this message and this link with your family and friends and encourage them to get involved with the Buy American Made Campaign. Thanks for your participation.
