Private Sector Jobs Bill

Almost every week we hear about legislation being presented and passed by the United States Congress. I would like to propose the Private Sector Jobs Bill for passage by Congress and be signed by the President.

I'm not suggesting any type of government involvement with private sector businesses, because we all know that government does not belong in any business other than looking out for the well being of the American people. The Private Sector Jobs Bill would mandate long-term tax incentives that would benefit businesses operating in the U.S.A. and businesses returning to America. Since so many other issues are mandated, why not a mandate to insure a healthy business environment in America?

Since we live in a very competitive world and already know that business investors always go where they get the BEST DEAL, its time to lower America's business tax rates and make investing in America the BEST DEAL on the planet. We know that national and state business taxes and over regulation made it more profitable to move industries overseas and import the products for sale to the American people.

Recently I was told America already has funds appropriated in its federal budget to promote jobs in America. I asked to have information forwarded to me as to how much money the federal budget has for this purpose, which department is funded to promote jobs and what that department's accomplishments have been during the last 10 years. I am patiently waiting for the reply.

At this time I welcome your thoughts on the Private Sector Jobs Bill which would be the NEW long-term guide outlining reasons why doing business in America would be the key to success for business investors, American workers and America's economy. The next thing needed is the names of the NATIONAL ELECTED LEADERS that would propose the Private Sector Jobs Bill. Do you have any suggestions? I welcome you to contact me.
