Working Together for a Positive Outcome!

Each of us clearly sees that it's going to take longer than we expected to return to a level of normalcy in the United States after experiencing the spread of the coronavirus that originated in China. The American people have experienced many viruses over the years, however, the coronavirus has been historic and it will now take all Americans working together to bring America back to a pre-coronavirus economy.

The most important way to make positive changes happen is for America's consumers to spend their hard earned dollars wisely and remain focused on purchasing as much American made as possible. America's businesses were forced to scale down or close during the last 4 months and it has been a major strain on the 30 million businesses registered in the United States, especially those that make, sell and distribute the products we purchase on a regular basis.

We, as America's consumers, can help increase America's manufacturing industries by focusing our purchases on the made in the United States label. By doing so, industries can work toward restoring no less than a 50/50 balance of everything sold in America with a made in U.S.A. label. With 50% of all products once again made in the U.S.A., we will see a major gain in long-term employment opportunities for American workers and be able to once again depend on the workmanship of our fellow Americans who need jobs to support themselves.

Thanks for your participation. Kindly spread the word.
