It's Up To Us!

For the last few years millions of people have joined me in promoting American made products and the expansion of private sector businesses that can help restore jobs and job skills. As more individuals, radio, television, print media and Internet sites promote the Buy American Made Campaign, we clearly see that "It's Up To Us" to speak up and be involved in efforts to restore JOBS in the U.S.A.

Working together to promote and purchase American made products is now on the minds of more Americans. Through the National Small Business Weekend effort we are also bringing attention to local businesses that need and appreciate our business. By supporting American made products we are helping American workers keep their jobs and working toward lowering the unemployment rate and the need for government entitlement's for people who could be employed.

From the responses I receive, JOBS are what Americans want, so go out of your way to purchase American made products throughout the year and every First Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the month, promote our efforts even more by shopping at your local businesses and help us spread the word about: NationalSmallBusinessWeekend.com

Join me and my guests every Wednesday at 11 A.M. for American Workers Radio on 860 AM which broadcasts in the Philadelphia and tri-state area. You can listen live or rebroadcast anytime on the Internet from: AmericanWorkersRadio.com.
