America's Consumers Can Change Our Future!

All of us look in amazement at the changes that have taken place in the United States as a result of the coronavirus pandemic that originated in China and spread around the world. The most honorable thing that should have been done by China's government is to alert world leaders that a virus was spreading in China so they could prepare their people in the event the virus spread to other countries. This simple lack of honesty, months before the coronavirus spread from China to other countries, didn't allow world leaders to have the opportunity to alert their people and the health and economic results have been devastating.

At this time, we are still experiencing the results of the coronavirus, which lead to the loss of life, our personal liberties, employment opportunities, having our children together in school and restrictions on our ability to freely enjoy ourselves and travel. With all the difficulties we are experiencing, I'm pleased to report that more Americans are discussing the importance of efforts like the Buy American Made Campaign and ways to support our fellow Americans. With more of America's consumers looking for ways to help companies making products and providing services in the United States, American workers will be able to get back to their jobs and even more jobs can be created in the near future.

As we work together to get things back to a level of normalcy, everyone is asked to help our fellow Americans in every way possible. Supporting the businesses that provide American jobs is certainly an important way for America's consumers to help our working age and able bodied Americans to support themselves and add to the well-being of America's economy.

Thanks for your participation.
